Q1. Will the IRG use the current fastrack/urgency approach, or something else?

Yes, the IRG will use the current fastrack approach.

Q2. Will party representatives be appointed for the IRG, and will these representatives have equal 'voting' rights, and how will this work if 24/7 responses are required?

Party representatives will be appointed via the normal nominations and elections process as per all decision groups. IRG decisions will, wherever possible, be made through consensus, and if consensus cannot be reached, the Chair (SRO) will make the decision after considering all views expressed.
